Disclaimer

The Institute only carries out an assessment of the applicant's qualifications and experience. It does not make any assessment nor make any recommendations as to the migration application.

Any inquiries regarding the migration application must be made to the Australian Department of Immigration and Citizenship

Please note that this assessment does not guarantee your employment in Australia and should you be successful with your migration application you may need to be registered in the State or Territory in which you gain employment. The State governments of Australia each have their own Surveying Boards to which surveyors have to apply for registration. You should be aware that you may have to undertake a further course of study and training with a Surveyors Board in one of the States and Territories to become registered with that authority
